NOGARD DRAGON

Doubledragon was born from the idea of a group of designers from different countries and with experience in different fields (fashion, architecture, product design, contemporary art) their willingness to converge within the same project/container different experiences and suggestions in a cross-cutting way. The curious need for anonymity is not meant to be a quirk but rather an invitation to focus on the product, its quality and that joyful part of the message it carries. This is detached from the monothematic rhetoric that very often accompanies contemporary perfumery brands, inevitably setting creative limits, to experimentation and research of themes, exalting, almost celebrating, the redundant ego of some protagonists. The logic of the brand in “its creator’s name” is replaced by content that allows creators to bring the public closer to niche worlds without flaunting knowledge.

THE COLLECTION

CONCRETE TO LEATHER

Concrete to leather is the refrain of the Idles' most famous song "never fight a man with a perm". Globally hailed band from the post punk scene, hardcore chic, extremely committed and at the same time cynically and wickedly ironic. Their live shows now have been headlining major world festivals for years, Coachella, Primavera Sound, Glastombury. Literally translated: Cement on the skin, a fragrance that lasts forever.

DEMNA

Demna is the creative director of Balenciaga. One of the most ingenious, brilliant and controversial designers of the 2000s. Founder, together with his brother Guram, of the brand Vetements, literally "Clothes" in French, within a very short time he became one of the cult fashion brands of recent years. The idea of naming the fragrance after him was born (in addition to celebrating the talented designer), from the curious coincidence that to date the ecosystem of Balenciaga and Vetements products lacks perfume, in fact leaving a huge audience of fanatics of the two brands without a point of reference.

Notes

Acerbic, earthy, almost burnt iris rising over a base of synthetic white musks.

RAF MAN

Raf Man, double reference to Raf Simons cult designer of the last 30 years. From Antwerp currently creative director of Prada. And Jon Rafman, contemporary artist, famous for ferrying the mainstream art world into dystopian and deviant digital scenarios, a continuous glitch between reality and distortion. Perhaps the most cultured quote, but one that will quickly win over audiences with its simultaneously clean and extreme notes.

Notes

White Flowers, Ambroxan, White Musk, Calone.

THE COLLECTION

TEEN SPIRIT

Teen Spirit. “Smells like teen spirit” the most famous song by Nirvana, everyone ascribes a symbolic value to the title, “smells like a child’s soul,” instead it is taken from a phrase that Kurt Cobain’s girlfriend said one night “Kurt, you smell like teen spirit!” “Yes I do” referring to a teen deodorant that was in fashion in the 1990s in America that was called precisely Teen spirit, grossly candy and fruity. It is obviously meant to be a tribute to Nirvana and its frontman Kurt Cobain, a brilliant musician who revolutionized the music of the 1990s before he died prematurely at only 27 years old, cementing his legend forever.

PARFUMS

d'ELMAR

“Parfums d’Elmar” was founded in 2017, born from the idea of setting new standards in the field of artisanal luxury perfumery. The creative mind behind this niche fragrance brand is Swiss entrepreneur Elmar Métry, who spent over 20 years working in private banking. Fragrances have always fascinated him. As a child, he used to mix his mother’s perfume samples on cotton pads and experiment with their aromas. Even back then, he could already tell who was wearing which (commercial) scent.

At that time, niche perfumes didn’t really exist yet. His passion for fragrances has remained constant ever since— it’s the images and emotions they evoke that continue to captivate him. He has now been involved with niche perfumery for 20 years. “I’m an aficionado,” he says, “and I even like to wear a fragrance before going to bed.”

parfum de
MAHZEN

We embarked on a journey, an adventure to solve an ancient mystery. It was a quest that took us deep into the realms of scent and imagination, a pursuit to unlock the secrets of enchantment and capture them within a bottle.

In our pursuit of this mystical allure, we delved into the rich tapestry of history, drawing inspiration from ancient tales of distant lands and forgotten treasures. We immersed ourselves in the aromatic landscapes of exotic bazaars, ancient temples, and lush gardens, seeking to distill their essence into fragrances that would captivate the senses and ignite the spirit.

With 70 years of expertise and through countless hours of research and experimentation, we harnessed the wisdom of the past and the innovations of the present to craft a collection of perfumes that would awaken the soul. Each fragrance was meticulously composed, blending rare and exquisite ingredients sourced from every corner of the globe. From the delicate petals of Moroccan roses to the smoky warmth of Indonesian oud, every note was carefully selected to weave a narrative of beauty and intrigue.
